

“Stepping into Gene Kelly’s shoes can be a daunting task, however, Patrick Boyd carries off the role with finesse. Every time Boyd spring into another step done by Gene Kelly 48 years ago, the audience couldn’t help but erupt into applause.”

THE HAMILTON NEWS
Indianapolis, IN

“Boyd’s current stage effort is somewhat ‘magical,’ including the famed big number where it rains on the Indianapolis stage”

KOKOMO TRIBUNE
Indianapolis, IN

Patrick Boyd is “Don Lockwood”
SINGIN’ IN THE RAIN

“When Boyd starts singing you’re ready to swoon, beginning with You Stepped Out of A Dream and going right through You Were Meant For Me, and especially the title song. That’s when, with rain splashing down, Boyd skips, splashes, jumps on a lamp post and twirls with an umbrella as he celebrates his love by Singin’ In The Rain.”

THE INDIANAPOLIS STAR